In ordinary life we hardly
Realize that we receive a Great deal more than we Give, and that it is only with Gratitude that life becomes Rich.

-Dietrich Bonhoeffer

Every pure work needs austerity and here is an example. So, for this study, I would like to show my gratitude to many important people, without whom, I could not imagine my existence in professional as well as in personal life and without their encouragement and support this thesis would not have been possible. First of all, I would like to show my indebtedness to the Ultimate Power ‘God’ to shower His blessings on me for every minute step which I have taken for this research. After Almighty its ‘Guru’, my greatest thanks go to my Supervisor Prof. (Mrs.) Rajul Bhargava. She spared time from her busy schedule and guided me for every minute hurdle very affectionately as a mother. She has opened the window to the world of literature for me. I have no words to express my reverence to her. Under her intellectual guidance, I found the passion of doing academic research and the audacity of facing the ups and downs in the process. I have enjoyed every moment of the insightful discussions with her.

I would like to share one more thing at this auspicious moment. Every scholar has a guide for supervision but I am blessed with two supervisors- Prof. (Mrs.) Rajul Bhargava and Prof. H.S. Chandalia. With their sacred support and in depth knowledge of the subject this work has completed in time. They supported and encouraged me at every moment during this period. They opened the path for me to achieve the goal. They have completely transformed my vision towards literature and research. They are the best ‘Gurus’ in the real sense. It would not have been possible without the scholarly demeanor of Prof. M. C .Sharma, Vice-Chancellor of CUH, who always remained a lighthouse to me.

My deepest gratitude is for my family for their warm support, which brings hope and belief into my life. To my beloved parents, Mr. Rajendra Kothari and Mrs. Kusum Kothari, who have been so caring and supporting to me all the time and without whose support I would be nothing; and to my brother Advocate Ankit R. Kothari whose love and patience have backed me up to keep moving on and who always motivated me to work hard. Last but not least, I will owe my heartfelt gratitude to my beloved soul mate, Mrs. Sarita Kothari, for her never-ending encouragement and unfailing love. I take this moment to thank my friends Ankit Khandelwal, Deepanker Sharma, and Gaurav Vanawat who constantly motivated me to keep on trying hard. I would also like to thank my learned teachers – Dr. Bir Singh Yadav and Dr. Sanjiv Kumar and all administrative staff of Central University of Haryana for their support and help.

Also, I would like to pay indebtedness to my maternal uncles, Mr. Vinod Chandra Vanawat and Mr. Arun Vanawat, for providing me constant economical, psychological support, encouragement and love. I thank them for the sacrifices they made so that I could grow up in a learning environment. They always stood by me in everything I have done.

Lastly, I express my indebtedness to the staff of various libraries for avail all the books I needed. I like to mention in particular Sahitya Academy, Sector 4, Udaipur, Central Library of University of Rajasthan, Jaipur and the library of Central University of Haryana. I also thank my typist Mr. Narendra Kumar Lalwani (Pradeep Commercial Institute) for getting my work done in time.

Thank you all.
