

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Upon having reached this triumphant moment, words fall short of expressing feelings of my heart; however I want to acknowledge the help and support received from others in the completion of my work. The thesis would not have been possible without guidance and support of numerous people. I am thankful to a number of people who provide their valuable insight and remarkable inputs thereby in enabling me to complete this work.

Firstly, I am greatly indebted to my learned supervisors, Dr. Raghvendra Pratap Singh (Supervisor) and Dr. Satish Kumar (Joint-Supervisor) for the knowledge, patience and understanding that he has contributed throughout the duration of my research. I feel highly obliged to Dr. Raghvendra Pratap Singh and Dr. Satish Kumar for bestowing upon me the honor of being my guide, despite his extremely busy administrative as well as academic schedule. His indefatigable zeal is a source of inspiration for all researchers. I consider myself indeed fortunate for having been able to work under his scholarly guidance.

Secondly, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. Ravindra (Research Officer, ICPS) who gave very elite suggestions and valuable guidance during the duration of my research. His advice has indeed enabled me to improve and update the content of the present research work. Actually words are fallen short to express gratitude for his valuable support and constructive insight.

There are, of course, some individuals, who bestow their blessing during the completion of work. In this series, I would like to express my gratitude to V. C. Sir, Prof. R.C.Kuhad and Prof. Mool Chand Sharma (former V.C., C.U.H.) for their encouragement and conviction on scholars. I have no words to express my sincere thanks to my husband Dr. Satish Kumar Beniwal (SSO, FSL, Madhuban) for a belief on me regarding completion of the work. I would also like to express my heartfelt gratitude to all faculty members of C.U.H, specially Dr. Chanchal Sharma (Assistant Professor, Dept. of Pol.Sc., C.U.H) for providing me essential guidance as well as great moral support.

My sincere thanks are also to the learned and dignified personality, Dr. S.C. Arora, Dr. Ajay K.Singh (Head, Centre for Federal Studies, Jamia Hamdard University) for his precious elaboration on the topic of the research and for providing me valuable literature related to the research area. I am also thankful to Dr. Shilpa Kalher for her great annotations and enormous literature provided by her. I am also thankful to Ms. Rani Beniwal for her nice cooperation all time.

This research, of course, could not have been carried out without the generosity of all the respondents that form the bedrock of this thesis. I extend my deep gratitude to them, as well as to the many other respondents who wished to remain anonymous. Without your generous contributions, this thesis would not have seen the light of day. I am extremely grateful to the government officials of Mahendergarh, Ambala and Bhiwani district especially to selected six blocks, who were gracious enough to grant me for interview and express their views on the subject of MGNREGS despite of their hectic busy schedule. I am also thankful to library staff of Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra and Central University of Haryana, Pali.

In this long and demanding process, the support I have received from my loving son (Arjun Beniwal) and family has been essential to this endeavor. My all nephew and niece, despite the physical distance, have been untiring sources of encouragement and positive energy. My sisters, brother, brother-in-laws and Sister-in-laws have been pillars of support throughout the process. And finally my Maa, papa and Maaji (Smt. Ompati Devi, Sh. Randhir Singh and Smt. Phoolpati Beniwal) who have given me unquestioned affection, understanding, belief and encouragement as only parents can. I offer my deep gratitude to each of you.

Finally, I can only attempt to put down in words what is essentially an impossible task – expressing my gratitude to my friends and fellow researchers, Dr. Shilpa Kalher, Dikshant Bhaker, Dr. Madhukar Sharma, Manita Yadav, Mangal Dev and fellow Ph.D. candidates for their kind assistance and support from the early days of the research work. All of you help me with your innate generosity, grace and good cheer. Thank you for being the inexhaustible source of moral strength that I could continuously draw from all of you.
