

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

All thanks and praises goes to Almighty Allah for giving me the grace and energy to complete this research work successfully. I express my deepest thanks to the Vice-Chancellor, Central University of Haryana for providing all possible facilities and creating an environment conducive for research in the university. My due thanks go to my supervisor, Dr. Ranjan Aneja, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Central University of Haryana, Mahendragarh who took time out of tight schedule to go through and correct this work thoroughly. I am also thankful for his continuous support and for his calmness, motivation, enthusiasm and immense knowledge that enriched my research work.

I express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Ajeet Kumar Sahoo, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Central University of Haryana, Mahendragarh whose guidance helped me during all the time of research and writing of this dissertation. I am also thankful to all faculty members of Department of Economics for their motivation and help in the course of this research work.

My heartfelt thanks go to my wonderful Parents, for their love, care, support and prayers in general and to my wonderful and loving sister Shabnum in particular.

I would like to show my sincere appreciation to my classmates for their encouragement and moral support during the course of doing this research. I say a big thanks to all of them.
