

Acknowledgement

It is my great pleasure that I record deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Sarika Sharma, Head of the Department for granting me the permission to undergo my studies in this temple of learning. I extend my extreme gratitude to Prof. Ravi Kant Gunthey, Head of the Department, Department of Psychology, Jai Narain Vyas University, Jodhpur for granting me the permission to undertake the data collection from TEPSE & HEPSN research centre of Intellectual and Developmental Disability Children. With great pleasure I also acknowledge my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. Arpita Kocher, Assistant Professor at TEPSE & HEPSN centre for her valuable guidance, timely suggestions and enormous encouragement for this experimental study.

I wish to express my gratefulness to Prof. Pragya Srivastva Varma, Department of Special Education, NIMH, Secunderabad, for her sincere help and encouragement throughout the course of research.

I am much obliged to express my sincere thanks to Prof. Dwarika Prasad, Former Chairperson and Director, RCI Expert Committee on Clinical Psychology, and Dr. Arvind Sharma, Associate Professor, Department of Special Education (MR), DSMNRU for their lofty help, suggestions and encouragement which help me a lot in molding this dissertation into its reality.

I am grateful to the parents of the mentally challenged student and teachers of TEPSE & HEPSN (Teacher Preparation in Special Education & Higher Education for Persons with Special Needs) Centre, without whom and their kind cooperation; this study would not have been possible.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not thank my mother Late Smt. Chinti Das, my father Shri Fulchand Das and my brother Nagendra Das, Keshav Das and Anup Kumar Das for their excellent support, advice and help give throughout the course. Above all, I bow mu head before the God almighty who blessed me with health, strength and confidence.
