

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

No project is a solo task; I have been blessed to find skillful and helpful people who have guided me throughout this task. These people are my teachers, family, friends and classmates who have helped me throughout my dissertation. Without their cooperation, advice and guidance this project would not have been possible. First of all, I express my sincerest gratitude towards the Department of English and Foreign Languages, who gave me the opportunity to undertake research on the topic and to the Almighty for giving me the strength to carry it out till the end. I convey my deep gratitude to Vice-Chancellor, Central University of Haryana, Mahendergarh, for making available all the facilities.

I would like to thank my supervisor, Dr. Sudeep Kumar for his support, encouragement and patience during this research work. I express my respectful gratitude to Dr. Sanjeev Kumar, Head, Dept. of English and Foreign Languages and other faculty members of the department – Dr. Manoj, Dr. Rinu and Dr. Snehsata for their advice. No research work can be written without the help of libraries. I like to express my appreciation for the Library Staff of Central University of Haryana, who have helped me procure material for this project. The credit for the completion of my M.Phil. also goes to my family, who have supported me physically, emotionally and financially throughout my life and this project. My parents have patiently stood by me during the entire course of my M.Phil. and urged me on to do my best. I would like to express my love and appreciation for my friends at CUH and outside, whose insights and advice, during the discussions were influential to shape this project. Last but not the least, I express my thanks to my classmates – Shuchi, Anaswara, Anuradha, Puneet Kour, Rafi, Jasvir, Tariq, Rajat, Nisha, Niharika, Radhika.

Seema