

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In my experiencing, writing a dissertation need time, patient, devotion and continuous encouragement from people around you or have been closely associated with you. I'm very fortunate to find number of people who kept me motivating during my research work and always inspired me do something good in life. Though this dissertation is my own work but there are number of people who made it possible for me to complete it within dedicated time framework.

In my knowledge a supervisor is someone who directs your work and knows exactly which path you should take to finish your journey. I'm very lucky to find a supervisor as such whose guidance and feedback helped me to pursue and finish this research work on time. Needless to say, I owe my profound gratitude to Dr. Rajeev Kumar Singh, my supervisor for his unfailing guidance and way of analysing the problem gave me the necessary perspective direction of my study. You acted like a parent when I was in trouble, you advised like a brother whenever you found me losing my direction and you behaved like a friend when you found me alone. This research wouldn't have been possible without your guidance and faith in me.

I also express my gratitude to Dr. Rajbir Singh Dalal, Head of Department, Political Science for his regular guidance and giving proper space to students in the department to carry out research work. I also express my gratitude to Dr. Ramesh Kumar, Prof. Chanchal Sharma, Dr. Shantesh Kumar Singh, Ms. Shweta Sohal and others for their timely guidance and suggestions.

During my research work, I have received immense support from many people but the contribution of my friend Sumit Sinha is unmatched. I have no words to describe his contribution. He has been a friend, and a person whose guidance in my research work helped me to complete my M.Phil. with ease.

I am extremely grateful to my colleagues and senior in the department and outside department in the university. I have always received great support from Nitin Rawat, Anu, Radha Chauhan, Parth G., Ravi Shankar Raj, Sandeep Kumar Bhaiya. I would especially like to thank Nitin Rawat for always motivating me to do good and for accompany me in many activities within the university. I am extremely grateful to the respondents for sparing their time to help me during my field work. It was not possible for me to collect empirical evidences from the field without their immense support.

Special thanks are due to my Parents and in-laws. I have reached to this level because of their contribution and faith in me. I dedicate this research work to my father and my husband who made this journey possible for me.
